Copy Archive from the hard drive onto your computer.

Unzip the archive.

You can keep the extracted folder wherever you like.

Open the folder and double click the Matrix coordinates Icon to run it. Right click the icon and select send to desktop if you want to move the folder somewhere and only want a shortcut on the desktop.

The app will automatically launch whatever internet browser you have on your computer and navigate to the coordinate tool. Leave the window below open while using the tool.